

Choose the crypto exchange pair

Let's assume you have USDC and you want to have Bitcoin. Here is how the USDC to BTC exchange process takes place on Fiddlebits.co

The screenshot shows a dark-themed mobile interface for a crypto exchange. At the top, it says "You send" followed by the number "25" and a dropdown menu showing "TRC-20" and "USDC" with a downward arrow. Below this is a "Floating rate" section with a lock icon and a swap icon. Underneath, it says "You get" followed by "≈ 0.0014677" and a dropdown menu showing "BTC" with a downward arrow. At the bottom, there is a blue button labeled "Exchange". Above the button, there is a line of text: "By clicking Exchange you agree with Terms of Service and Privacy Policy".

Enter the recipient's address

Now you need to enter the recipient's BTC address. Be extremely careful and double-check your BTC address. Your bitcoin(s) will be sent to this address right after the exchange..

Send and receive cryptocurrencies

On the exchange page, you will see the address to send the indicated amount of USDC to continue the exchange.

Receive cryptocurrency

When the swap process is over and the exchange is successfully finished, you will get the desired crypto.
